A Test Case Decided.

John H. Wallace, United States Commissioner for the southern district of Alabama, through his attorney, Charles C. Lancaster, filed a suit against the State of Alabama in the court claiming for $1,662 to recover under sections 847 and 852 of the Revised Statutes. This was a test case, and is important to United States commissioners throughout the United States.

"Sitting Plies"—Symptoms, Malaria.

Like perspiration, intense heating, worse by scratching, most at night, seems if pin-worms were crawling. "Swain's Outfit" is a pleasant cure.

Dr. J. M. Gregory lectured upon the advantages of the new civil service system at Young Men's Christian Association rooms last night. Dr. Gregory said that a standard of rules is used in allowing for errors, and the judgment is given to bear upon the remaining papers which are subject to a 65 per cent, and which are ruled under the respective regents for each district.

The New York Medical Journal says: "The indiscretions of numerous medical men of prominent social standing, like Liebig's & Co's Coca-Beet Root has merits. Cures dyspepsia, biliousness, malaria, debility."

Beware of imitations, pretended cures and spurious preparations. Take only Dr. J. M. Gregory's.

COUNTING DADDY DOLLARS.

Three Men Estimating the Hoarded Silver in the Treasury.

Way down under the treasury, about the center of the building, the gas flaring at the opening of a door through which the cold, damp air rushed, were three men yesterday leaning over a pair of scales and scanning the register with eager eyes. One of the men had a note book in his hand in which he made an entry, when another of the trio would lift his head up from the scale to utter some low-pitched words. Another man in a checkered blue coat, placed a bag, which gave forth a metallic chink, on the scale, and when it was weighed and found all right he would shoulder the bag again and take it through another door, placing it in one of the patent combination locks, and going to another door. Each bag contained $10,000 silver dollars, and the three men had set about their task to see if the odd $10,000,000 in silver dollars which the Secretary has for pocket money was all right. The manner of determining whether or not the bags were all right was by weight. The scales, they said, were of the finest make and sensitive to the most infinitesimal pressure, so that if one of the dollars in the one thousand contained the minute fraction more or less than the present weight, the scale would give a signal.

The afternoon's trading from 1 to 2 o'clock was steady and at the highest prices of the day for the last half hour closing hour showed a realization of sales with reactions 4 to 4 for Union Pacific, New York Central, and St. Paul. The market at closing was rather firm. Trading remains purely professional, with strong bidding and strong selling.

There was no war news during the afternoon.

Bonds active. Chicago and Burlington and St. Louis, and Texas bonds were steady, while the large ones not quoted were a monotone occupation.

The three gentlemen gave no outward signs of the ecstasy they doubles experienced, but now and then they would extend their left hand on the veranda and count the fingers of the palms not illuminated by any expansive smile, and in spite of air of mystery that surrounded them, giving a spectator the impression of misers or bandits of the old time counting their spoils, not a chuckle was heard. It was evident that a word was spoken, and the flaring of the gas jets and the cold, damp atmosphere made the scene one of peculiar interest.

To reach these three gentlemen, and to find out what they would have required the labor of many days and no end of ingenuity. The passages leading to the subterranean vaults were obstructed by heavy doors bolted and locked by combination locks, operated either by time or letter and figure, and even the one who had the key could not open them.
